Poor pair Mike Watson lead forecast last December update december, 1:05pm u definition Volusia County PM surfing report: Little ENE looks obsessed around but riding for most places looks a lot but pretty consistent overall. The entrance finds the best option for something to surf. The conditions are clean with offshore winds. You will find some logs and waves to do, but not many others. Rest of today's outlook: The small, inconsistent ENE swell continues throughout the day, resulting in smaller but more breathable surf for better tourist attractions. The wind is at sea all day and in most cases it is very clean throughout.
